4 American Mothers, Inc., for strengthening her home, family, and community; and

5 WHEREAS, years ago, Mrs. Corrigan gave birth to a premature, one-pound baby girl, who 6 most doctors speculated would have little chance of recovery and would not learn to walk, 7 talk, or gain normal cognitive skills; and

8 WHEREAS, with an unyielding love and hope, Mrs. Corrigan spent the first six and half 9 years caring for her child as she was on oxygen and attempted to find a school for her 10 daughter which would address her specific learning needs; and

11 WHEREAS, finding no educational institution to address her daughter's needs, Mrs. Corrigan
12 founded Sophia Academy in 1999, which provides children with learning differences a 13 rigorous curriculum, athletic programs, and fine arts opportunities; and

14 WHEREAS, Sophia Academy is a nondenominational Christian education school for grades 15 kindergarten through eighth and has had a positive impact on over 200 families due to its 16 multisensory approach to serving students with dyslexia, auditory and visual processing 17 deficits, and attention deficits; and

18 WHEREAS, Mrs. Corrigan has diligently and conscientiously devoted her time, talents, and 19 energy to the academy over the past decade, serving as the school's principal, director, and 20 teacher, and spearheading major fundraising drives on behalf of the school; and

21 WHEREAS, Mrs. Corrigan's own daughter has also thrived due to her time at Sophia 22 Academy and her mother's loving support, graduating from high school, earning several 23 college scholarships, and becoming an active member of a college sorority; and

24 WHEREAS, this wife of Dr. Victor Corrigan and mother of four's concern for children with 25 learning differences does not stop with Sophia Academy, as she serves on the Recording for 26 the Blind and Dyslexic, Georgia Department of Education State Advisory Panel, and 27 Buckhead Business Education Panel; and

28 WHEREAS, she was instrumental in the passage of the Georgia Special Needs Scholarship 29 Act, which enables public school children with learning disabilities to be eligible for 30 vouchers so that they may attend another public or private school that better addresses their

32 WHEREAS, it is abundantly fitting and proper that the extraordinary accomplishments of 33 this distinguished Georgian be appropriately recognized.
